Winter Memories

Many of us may have good memories of winter/holiday gatherings, and/or outdoor winter recreation. Some people face challenges including isolation, limited ability to exercise, memories of losses, overeating, and overspending. This wellness planner is designed to help you plan ahead so you can maintain a sense of wellness during the winter season.

Describe a positive winter memory.

Winter Challenges

Winter is the coldest season of the year in temperate climate, between autumn and spring.

At the winter solstice, the days are shortest and the nights are longest, with days lengthening as the season progresses after the solstice.

Challenges during the holidays

- Many holidays occur during the winter months when people are already more susceptible to the common cold, flu, and depressed mood
- Holidays usually involve the obligation of spending money on gifts or food
- Alcohol is typically served during holiday functions which can be a trigger for some
- Holiday travel can be a major source of contention and stress. Dealing with traffic and the short-tempers of other travelers can also be quite challenging
- Social anxiety may be heightened when we are invited to parties with large gatherings of people.
General Stressors and Triggers

Physical

○ Diet and nutrition, physical activity, sleep,
  ● Emotional
  ○ Losses may impact harder during winter time

Diet and Nutrition

- Eat several small meals so that you are not starving when it comes time to eat a holiday feast.
- Drink water before your meal so that you get full faster.
- Watch portions. Aim to eat mostly vegetables and fruit on your plate and opt out of breads and biscuits.
- Opt for water instead of soda, alcoholic beverages, or caffeinated drinks.
- Be aware that many of us get less fresh fruit and vegetables during winter months – look for healthy ways to replace these vital nutrients.

Physical Activity and Environment:

- Walk around a mall with friends
- Join an exercise class or fitness group in the community
- Clean your living area
- Enjoy outdoor winter activities
- Exercise extra care to prevent slips and other winter injuries, and make sure that kids and elders do the same

Health Care

- Practice good prevention for colds and flu such as frequent hand washing
- If you follow self-management for a chronic health condition, don’t let holiday events, meals, Travel, etc. let you get derailed

Family, Friends, and Supporters:

- Consider who in your support network is a positive supporter and who might be unhealthy for you
- Decide on how much socialization time you need in order to feel well
- Make holiday get-togethers a positive opportunity to renew acquaintances with family and friends you may not see or speak with very often
- Make attempts to “give back” whenever possible

Finances:

- Plan ahead in terms of spending and know your limits
- Consider ways to give gifts other than spending money

Rest/Relaxation:

- Know your limits and plan ahead for proper balance of sleep, relaxation, and activity

- Try to get enough sleep/rest each night, and avoid oversleeping during the winter months

Spiritual:

- Attend spiritual gatherings and celebrate in the holiday season
- Find ways to express gratitude each day

Expressive Art:

- Art can be a great way to express yourself during the holidays
- Consider attending a museum or holiday light show
- Attend a play with a holiday theme
- Think about combining friends/family and expressive arts – do a project or go to a show with some of the kids (young and old) in your life

Winter Wellness Tools

When considering our holiday/winter wellness, it is a good idea to think of the self-care practices that we need in order to feel well and maintain/improve our overall health status. Activities like exercise, spiritual connection, social contact, and reading can all be tools that help us to stay well during the winter season. List your top five strategies for staying well this season:
